MONDAY EVENING, OCTOBER I.

SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION (Including Postage), PER MONTH, 30c.; PER YEAR, $3.50.

VOL. 29.....NO. 9,904

Intered at the Post-Office at New York as second-class

Circulation Books Always Open.

"WORLD" GROWTH STRIKINGLY SHOWN.

The Average Number of "WORLDS" Printed Daily and also the Average Num her of Advertisements Published Daily during the First Six Months of the Years 1884 and 1888 were as follows:

Average Number Advertisements Daily

1,816.

Average Daily Circulation, 56,749. 288,267.

THE LONDON CRIMES.

The "Whitechapel murders," as they are called in England, are beginning to excite as much terror in London as the crimes of Buske did many years ago. The two new cases reported to-day swell the number of victims to five and probably to six, and no clue has yet been discovered that promises to lead to the detection of the assassin.

Last night the bodies of two dead females were discovered in the streets in the White. chapel district. One was certainly killed by the same hand that committed the previous crimes, the mutilation of the body bearing the unmistakable sign of his work. The other body was not mutilated, but the cut in the throat is believed from its character to have been inflicted by the same assassin.

The singular features of the horrible crimes are that their victims are all dissolute women, that the locality of the murders is the same, and that the bodies are similarly mangled after death. In Bunke's case the victims disappeared absolutely and no trace of their fate was left behind. BURKE and an accomplice would seize a foot passenger in the streets, garrote him, with wonderful expertness bind his hands and place a pitch plaster over his mouth and nose, toss him into a sack and carry him off. The object was to sell the bodies for the dissecting table.

Probably the recollection of these old crimes has given birth to the story about the "Whitechapel murderer" being an American who wants to secure portions of the female human body for anatomical purposes. At all events, the singular and terrible murders have excited London to an extraordinary

In New York it is hardly possible that the guilty parties could have so long remained undiscovered.

THAT BANK ROBBERY. There is not much chance for the robbery at the Bank of the Republic, which was made public by THE EVENING WORLD for the first time last Saturday, to remain long undetected. An amateur detective has a "theory." He says that the robbery was not committed by a clerk, but by a thief, dressed in an inky office coat, hatless and with a pen behind his ear, who went behind the desk while the clerks were bringing the money from the vaults, kept his head turned away from the regular employees, received the package, put it under his coat and walked away

This is a very pleasant and plausible theory. But it has a few difficulties in its way. It would be more likely that a clerk passed the money out to an accomplice. But with our present bright detective force there is but little prospect that the thief will escape discovery.

The way of the transgressor is hard. This is an observation our readers may have met with before. But its truth is illustrated by the story of FRANK M. IRION, the defaulting Clerk of the City Coart of Birmingham, Ala. Imon's crime so preyed upon his conscience that he worked his passage over before the mast for the purpose of de livering himself up to justice. Yet this is not always the case. Some defaulting clerks of courts take the matter coolly, and even pense justice to others instead of courting its penalties for themselves.

Mrs. BECKER, an interesting employee in the Redemption Division of the Treasury Office, at Washington, is in difficulty, She has been employed ever since Treasurer SPINNER's time, whose heart was not as erabbed as his autograph. It was found last week that the old notes she had counted for redemption were $994 short. It is not known how long she has been "working" this little "racket," nor how much she is short. But she has left the Department, and there is a flutter among 11the Redemption Office

It is unfortunate that the School Trustees of the Ninth Ward cannot get along without quarrelling. But there seems to ment anxious to make trouble. know nothing about the Ninth Ward difficulties, but Trustee TINSDALE'S designation of the Principal, Miss E. A. Popz, about whom they seem to have arisen. as " an old maid with a loose tongue in her head," shows that he is scarcely a fit person for the office ne holds.

The Central Labor Union has received a curt reply from Mayor HEWITT to its request that the manufacture of cigars in tenementhouses be abolished. The Mayor indicates that if the labor men think such manufacture ought to be stopped they had better point out how, and under what authority. If the practice is a nuisance, dangerous to health, the law gives Mr. HEWITT's pet Board

The baby show at the Westchester County Fair ended in the award of the prizes to LIZZIE MAREL GRIPPIN, a three months' beauty, and BERTIE PATTERSON, a twenty-three-months-old hero. If the children are not proud their handsome mothers are, and justly so. As the three judges were strangers, it is hoped that they may escape with their lives, uncontrollable at Ringwood yesterday. He was reading a copy of the Illustrated London News when the fit came upon him. No wonder. His attendants should take care to keep such a publication out of his reach and to give him American illustrated journals to amuse himself with.

OUR AUTOGRAPH COLLECTION.

JERSEY CITY POLITICS. The Tilden Club is a musbroom which ha

C. Hughes is President. Charles W. J. Noelke is Colonel; W. H. Miller, Lieutenant-Colonel; Asa M. Leonard, Adjutant, and J. W. Kennedy, Major, in the Tilden Club's parade corps.

The organization of juvenile clubs is a new

The Democratic County Committee has located at 318 Grove street.

The Jersey City and Hoboken colonels, McAnerney and Stevens, who are to be Presidentia lectors, are two of the best represe County Democracy.

paint the town red on the 17th of October. The demonstration will be the greatest of the campaign.

Assemblyman Frank Short will have a walk-ove

WORLDLINGS.

Mrs. Mary Peconga, who died at the Indian eservation, near Marion, Ind., last week, was the widow of the last chief of the Miami tribe. So rigid is the quarantine against yellow fever a

The largest congressional district in the country extent, and the Queen is asked to offer a reis the Eleventh Texas, represented by Mr. S. W. ungrateful and blind to t ward for the detection of the criminal.

T. Lanham. It embraces ninety-five counties, they voted against him. congressional districts.

Berry Wall was recently seen in a suit of clother composed of loud checked tronsers of light material, a sea-green satin vest cut low, and a wineolored cutaway coat. Patent-leather shoes, a dark cravat and a silk hat completed his attire.

A tournament, modesled after the jousts of the middle ages, is soon to be held at Hammond. La. The participants will dress in medizeval attire, and the-chief feature will be a passage at arms between inights in armor. There will also be a troop of rchers to emulate the deeds of Robin Hood's mer

Policeman (to tramp in front of an exchange office)—What yer bowin' and scrapin' in front of that winder for ? Tramp (making another Chesterfieldian bow)-I'm saluting them bank notes. Old acquainst I haven't seen for years.

[From the Cartoon.] complication of diseases. I must first make a

The report that Mme. Patti's upper notes are deteriorating can hardly be well founded. She has just signed a new South American contract, whose terms give her not less than $6,000 for each performance. Her notes come higher than ever.

[ From the London Academy. ] [From the Loudon Academy.]
While time shall last one thing remains to me;
The tale of 'Iroy fades not; the hearts of men shall beat more quickly when my name they hear—
A name that lives forever. I gained that,
Though all else perished. Lover, friends and foes
Alike died fighting for me, that the name
Of Heien might have fitting pyre whereon to blaze
Through all succeeding time, and beacon like
To glow across the darkness of the unborn years.
Forever will the light from those that fought Hefore the walls of Troy show Helen standing there.

there.
Oh! to be again back on those walls, to hear the

Only to be again back on those walls, to hear the clang of arms.

And see Hector and Prism in the van of strife 'Mid that great host which leaguered Troy for years.

Heroes and gods fought side by side for me, and I was worsty prize. The bravest there Could meet no fitter death than thus to fall For me, whose heavily will the world still darnie when Troy shall be forgot; but to the end of time My name will sound a trumpet mast to men.

ISSUES OF THE DAY.

Police Justice O'Reilly Analyzes the Situation.

He Objects Strongly to the G. O. P.'s Free Whiskey Plank,

He Agrees with Mr. Rourke as to Gov. Hill's Probable Majority.

Police Justice Daniel O'Reilly is a man of very few words, but when he does speak he impresses his hearer with his sincerity and

He is a conscientious, true-blue Democrat -that nobody will deny-and his faith in Democracy is abounding. He is a member of the County Democracy, and as an expression on the political outlook had been sought and obtained from Judge Duffy by THE EVENING WORLD, so Judge O'Reilly, as the representative of the Counties on the Police Court bench, has been interviewed.

" What, in your opinion, will be the outcome of this present campaign of intellect?" propounded an Evening World reporter of Judge O'Reilly at the finish of a grist at the Yorkville Police Court.

"I do not think there is any doubt of the result," he replied. "I think there is not the slightest doubt of the triumphant election of Cleveland, and of Hill as well,"

"What do you think is the strongest argument in favor of Cleveland's return to the Presidency?"

There are many strong points. To the thinking, reasoning man his advocacy of Tariff Reform is his strongest card. But it is a new thing to most people, and it is pretty hard to get people to understand it at first. As the canvass progresses, however, the people are getting to understand it more clearly and Cleveland's prospects are growing brighter and brighter every day."

"If the election was put off another month..."

No, not that. An extra month is not needed. The people are learning very fast. They have learned that a reduction of the tarm will hurt no one and will be good for many."

"What effect will free whiskey in Na-tional Republicanism and high license in State Republicanism have on the temperance

Oh, the Prohibitionists will not be mis-"Oh, the Prohibitionists will not be mis-led, nor the whiskey men either. They will both ignore these cries of the Republicans as if they had not been uttered. As for me, I think whiskey is free enough now—too free for the country's good, and Gov. Hill has not shown that he is against high license. He has shown that he was opposed to any scheme to tax the city of New York alone for the benefit of the rest of the State. He is, I believe, in favor of a fair and equitable license for the whole State. The Republicans knew when their Legislature passed the knew when their Legislature passed the Crosby bill for political capital that the Governor would never sign it. That is why they did it. Had they supposed Gov. Hill would sign it they would never have passed

" Will the Blaine Irishmen vote solidly for "Will the Blaine Irishmen vote solidly for Harrison this year, in your judgment?"
"I think not. Four years ago the leaders were all in the interest of Blaine. Blaine is not running now, and Irishmen will vote as they like. They are going all right."

"Blaine's statement in an interview with an Evening World reporter that he believed that New York, Connecticut and New Jersey would go for Harrison, and his expression of doubt about Harrison's own State of Indiana was rather queer, wasn't it?"

doubt about Harrison's own State of Indiana was rather queer, wasn't it?"

"Yes, almost as if Blaine didn't want Harrison—casting a doubt as to Harrison's ability to win where he was best known. Still, I don't know. I am too busy to keep very well posted."

"What effect on the Labor vote will the declaration of the United Labor State Convention for Miller have?"

"That endorsement will have no effect at a strength of the convention for Miller have?"

reporter, smilingly.
"No: nobody has been discussed seriously "No: nobody has been discussed seriously by the County Democracy, aside from Hewitt. And he has not been talked of particularly. Hewitt has been a good Mayor, and the County Democracy has no fault to fin I. But yet, as I have said, if no union can be fixed up, I don't think it will interfere with the big majority for Cleveland, Thurman, Hill and Tariff Reform in November."

modest and retiring magistrate cautioned the reporter to "condense what I've said as much as you can," The reporter assented and withdrew.

Ambrose II. Purdy on Mayor Hewitt. Ambrose H. Purdy will to-night address a Demo oratic meeting at Foley Hall, corner of Fourth Hartem. It is promised that the speaker will have some thing to say on the method of Mayor Hewitt's mad-

Just Like the Brute. ** John. what would you do if I were to die ?**

* Bury you, my dear. " Guests at the Hotels. H. R. Dorr, of Rutland, Vt., and S. D. Warring-on, of Cleveland, are at the Gilsey. Frederick Salveson, of Edinburgh, and L. S. Mo-Mutry, of Kentucky, are at the Albemaric. At the Brunswick are P. W. Burrows, E. G. Ceszynsky, and Julian M. Rumsey, all of Chicago. Among the St. James guests are C. F. Spots-wood, of Norfolk, Va.; J. P. Willett, of Washing-ton, and J. A. Dillon, of St. Louis. Capt. G. A. Cornish, Lieut. Henry Taylor and Lieut. H. C. Coffin, U. S. A., and J. U. Jackson, of Augusta, Ga., are at the Grand Hotel. At the Bartholdi are F. T. Moulton, of Buffalo;
A. J. Whiteman, of Duluth, Minn., and C. J.
Bisseil, of Danville, Pa.
Sensior J. S. Fassett, of Elmira; Gov. J. B.
Poraker, of Ohio; S. F. Farnum, of Denver, and
W. C. Stowe, of Waltham, are at the Fifth Avenue.

At the Sturtevant House are W. H. Mawhiney, of Montrose, Pa.; J. J. Hobbs, of Boston; C. C. Paine, of Cleveland, O., and C. J. Traydon, of Covington, Ky. At the Astor House are W. Strachn, of Montreal; J. E. Powell, of Washington; W. H. Thurston, of Providence; G. M. Towie, of Boston, and J. W. Friend, of Pittsburg.

Registered at the Hoffman House are H. A. Judd, of Bilesville, Pa.; E. B. C. Hambley, of Salisbury, N. C.; C. H. Murran, of Burlington, Vt., and Herman Edgar, of Kewport.

ORGANIZED LABOR'S PARLIAMENT.

At the Central Labor Union meeting yesterday Louis Berliner, of the Cigar-Makers International Union, reported that five members of that body were recently shot down in Arkansas for their activity in behalf of the Union Labor pariy. He wanted a demonstration made denouncing the mur-

Trying to Make Peace in 49. the difficulty. It was decided to send a delegation

Salasmen Want on Hour for Lunch. At a regular meeting of the Dry-Goods Sales men's Early Closing Association it was unani-mously resolved to ask the employers of the large Notes in the Labor Field. The Clothing Trades Section will meet to-night.

in a Kansas City house in place of non-union met Toronto plumbers claim that forty-three New York "scale" have run in on them during their Cowboys used to get $50 a month each and board. Now $35 is a top figure, and the average is $35 a month and board. John J. Sullivan, of the Slate and Metal Roofers Union, was the Chairman of the Central Labor

The Connecticut Bakers' unions are holding a Convention at New Haven. A reduction of the hours of work is the constant aim of the Bakers' National Union, and its subordinate bodies never strike for nigher wages except in extreme cases.

IMPOSSIBLE TO PASS THEM.

hop Windows on Sixth Avenue that Re-

son, at Sixth avenue and Nineteenth street, are just now brimful of rich material artistically set out. Within doors the visitor finds the outward promise more than kept in the abundant profusion of everything which the most exacting shopper could possibly demand. Up in the cloak department there are garments enough for an army. A still, I don't know. I am too busy to keep very well posted."

"What effect on the Labor vote will the declaration of the United Labor State Convention for Miller have?"

"That endorsement will have no effect at all. I do not see why any laborer should go for Warner Miller as against David B. Hill. Hill has been their friend and they would be ungrateful and blind to their own interests if they coted against him."

"What of this city?"

"Well, I think Mr. Barney Rourke's estimate that our majority will be from 55,000 to 65,000 is a fair one, coming from a leading Republican. Only, I think that Cleveland and Hill will run closer together than he predicts. Each will win some votes from the opposition and each will lose some from among their partisans, but they will about even up."

"Should the factions of Democracy in this city unite, or would it be better for the National ticket if they nominated straight-out tickets?"

"I believe in the truth of the adage that 'In union there is strength,' and favor union if we can get a proper man on whom we can unite for Mayor. Still, I do not believe the question of union or separation would have much effect on the vote for Electors. Every Democrate; satisfied with Mayor Hewitt or ex-Mayor Grace as the union candidate?" suggested the reporter, smilingly.

"You would, like all good Counties, be satisfied with Mayor Hewitt or ex-Mayor Grace as the union candidate?" suggested the reporter, smilingly.

"No; no book dynap been discussed seriously by the Cannty Democracy aside from Hew.

"No; no book dynap been discussed seriously by the Cannty Democracy aside from Hew.

"No; no posted while factions of permention of the rest and permention of the description of union or separation would have munite for Mayor. Still, I do not believe the question of union or separation would have munite for Mayor. Still, I do not believe the question of union or separation would have munited for Mayor. Still, I do not believe the question of union or separation would have munited for Mayor. Still, novelty is the Irish peasant garment, made in lady's cloth and braided. Then there is the mate-

There is a department of men's furnishings, and

A Pleasant Celebration. The friends of Mr. A. B. Meyer and Mr. B. Strapss were tendered a reception on Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. Meyer, at Newark, the occasion being the birthday celebration of the hosts.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin Schlesinger. Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Crager. Mus. Msry Strauss. I. Schlesinger, F. Rauch, R. Schlesinger and Al Fisher, of this city; M. Mercr., of Patroon, Mr. and Mrs. R. Trier. Mr. and Mrs. I. Meyer, Misses C. Schwab, Helen and Henrietta Strauss, Rose and Laura Cohen, Ida and Frank Newcity and Minnie Koso.

The evening high schools of the city open tonight and the indications are that the attendance will be larger than ever before.

The schools are situated at 124 West Thirtieth atreet, 25 Norfolk street, and one Hundred and Twenty-18th street and second avenue, the last named being a new school founded to meet the requirements of the people of Harlem. The studies include bookkeeping, architectural, mechanical and free-hand drawing, mathematics, chemistry, purpongraphy, anstomy and physiology, foreign languages and history.

Notes of the Campaign. At a meeting of the John J. Barry Campaign Clue, of the Taird Assembly District, it was re-soived to support David B. Hill for Governor, and recommend the nomination of Michael J. Quig-ley for Alderman.

ley for Alderman.

The Cleveland and Thurman Campaign Club of the First Assembly District has indorsed the nominees of the Democratic party and recommended Peter Kelleher for Alderman for the First District, and John J. Cregan for Assembly-

I have a good, true and loving wife, who Beadle will preside.

The Cleveland and Thurman Retail Dry-Goods Association, which now has over five hundred nembers, will hold an important meeting this evening. The members of the Wholessie Dry-Goods Association will assemble at the Hoffman House and from thence march to the headquarters of the Retail Association, 311 3d avenue, where business will begin at 8 o'clock, besided Daly, Assistant District-Attorney James Prizgerald and other popular speakers will address the meeting.

THE GREAT SOCIAL QUERIES.

"IS MARRIAGE A FAILURE?" AND "IS BACHELORHOOD A SUCCESS ?"

Wives and Husbands, Bachelors and Maidens All Take a Hand in the Notable Sympo-sism-Various Views Advanced-An Opportunity for a "Female Bachelor."

To the Editor of The Evening World:

Though not a married man, I am one of those chaps who contemplate entering that bli-sful state some day. I have seen enough in the life and experience of my friends to justify the opinion that marriage is not a failure. In ninety-nine cases out of one hundred, if the man chooses the right woman, marriage is a success. I am convinced that marriage does more to refine and make a man better in every way than anything else on the face in every way than anything else on the face of the globe.

The thought that you have a good little wife home, ready to help and encourage you at all times, willing to please you in every way, gives you spunk, grit and ambition. A man wants an incentive to work, and he who has it in a lovely wife and children is indeed to be envied.

Let the ones who think marriage a failure think so. If it is balm to their wounded hearts they are welcome to the thought, but I put myself on record as one who sees in marriage much to be gained and nothing lost.

SIR HERBERT.

There Should Be More Confidence.
To the Editor of The Evening World:

Is marriage a failure? No. indeed, nor never can be, since marriage is a divine institution, created and ordained for the welfare and happiness of the human race. Without it we should have no happy fireside, no oving companion and no cheerful home filled with childish laughter.

It has doubtless proved a bitter failure to It has doubtless proved a bitter failure to many, especially to those who expected to find in the matrimonial state, a second edition of Eden, little dreaming of the cares, duties and responsibilities that largely constitute its daily experiences.

Let there be a thorough understanding of each other, mutual love and affection based upon respect and esteem, a desire to make home the dearest and most delightful place in all the world.

in all the world.

Husbands should consult their wives upon Husbands should consult their wives upon business, as well as social matters. The two are practically in the same boat. Business failures or successes affect both alike. Why, then, should the husband treat the wife as though she were unable to comprehend the business complications of every-day life?

How many times have I heard the remark:
"Had I taken my wife's advice. I would have saved so much."

Largely, married life is what we make it; avoid many of its trials by continually study-avoid many of its trials by continually study-ing each other's happiness, even in the small-est thing, remembering that life is made up

A Jolly Bachelor's Idea.

To the Editor of The Evenino World:
Your question of whether bachelorhood success is, I think, answered by the many successful bachelors we see at every turn in They are, as a class, jolly and good natured, always have a good word for their friends and, so far as the good things of life are concerned, far outstrip their poor brothers, the down-trodden married men. Many of our greatest men, both in the field of science and literature, have been bachelof science and literature, have been bachelors. Of course some married men have also attained eminence in the arts and letters, but if you will take a glance at their home lives and see how often they were uncongenial and unsympathetic, and how the cares of wife and family detracted from their cherished labors, you cannot help but acknowledge married life with them was a failure, whereas if they had remained bachelors they would have been much happier and attained a far greater success.

A JOLLY BACHELOR.

To the Editor of The Evening World: Is bachelorhood a failure? I should smile! enjoyed that period of blissful (?) probation till thirty years of age, and I can only say if I had "paired" as well some years before, it would doubtless have been better for me in many ways. The selfish habits of the bachelor often become chronic. After business he repairs to the club or pool table, finding no pleasure in e, if, indeed, he has such. Then, when he is getting beyond a boy," he enters marriage for a change—perhaps for the mere sake of marrying.

I had myseif become so inured to certain riage to break away from them. I did so, however, and now do all I can to please my wife and make her happy. Consequently, "all goes merry as a marriage bell."

A HAPPY MARKED MAR,

bood" what is his ideal of a woman?

An Admirer of Munhood. To the Editor of The Evening World:

I would like to inquire of the writer of the rticle signed ' An Admirer of True Woman.

I am fairly good-looking, industrious, and, I think, quite amiable for the most of the time. I have a nice little home, all to my-No man asks me to marry him, becaus self. No man asks me to marry him, because 1 am not handsome enough, not stylish enough, to catch the fancy.

1 think the most attractive and best men are more easily influenced by beauty and style than by any true worth, to make a h. me happy and to make the burdens of life easier for him.

I am not looking for an Adonis nor a millionaire, nor even an ideal. A sensible, decent man is good enough for me.

An Admines of Thue Manhood.

A Chapce for "Female Bachelor,"

To the Editor of The Evening World: In regard to "Female Bachelor's" state. ment in THE EVENING WORLD of this date. I should say that she is most decidedly correct.

I am a bachelor of about thirty (not from choice), and have always been seeking for a mate who will be able to send me ahead in the struggle that we all have to contend in to a greater or less extent for a living.

Any "female bachelor" desirous of doing such a good turn for "a bachelor" may address.

A Mclancholy Barber's View.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

Marriage is a failure under the present state of things. A man nowadays has all he can do to keep clothes on his back and pay can do to keep clothes on his back and pay his way under the present wages.

I am a barber, and in my trade the majority are compelled to work with board. A mean board we do get sometimes, too, and to make a decent living we must start a shop of our own. Then we work for the landlords, and sometimes wait for the next 10 cents to come in to buy a loaf of bread.

A BARBER.

Six Years of Married Success To the Educar of the Economy World: I have been married now almost six years, and have not found as yet that marriage is a failure.

has borne me three bright cherubs, and if you could see our home you would say that we live in a haven of rest and contentment.

A man should be kind to her who has the burden of the house to carry and look after. He should be home when his business hours are over and should brighten her by his presence and happy ways.

A DEVOLED HUSBAND. THOSE STEREOPTICON LEGENDS.

Word of Appreciation from an Up-Country Contemporary.

> The Wooden Indian Is Not so Uninteresting as He Looks. Fifth avenues. Very little is known by the

The manufacture of these floures in New has been sold.

"The figures are not so'd according to their size, but the price is governed entirely by the amount of work upon them. The nearer a figure is to nudity the more work there is it."

the Republican Dry-Goods Club. Directly under it is the headquarters of the Democratio dry-goods men, at 383 Broadway.

"We've been having our meetings in the evenings up to now, but we are going to have them in the daytime after this. It's easier # suitation with another political engine. There was plenty of life in the movement, as could be seen from the attendance and the interest which was shown in the proceedings.

To one strolling through Central Park after the "dewy shades of even" have tempered the garsh rays of day to a complexion

Grey cats, black cats, white cats, and occasionally a real bad, yellow cat, with a sawedagainst the legs of the benches, or the resting pedestrians, look with watering mouths at the plump, belated sparrow, or eye with latent awe the lovely figures of the sparrow policemen.
"Where do all these cats come from ?"

They stray in here from the neighboring em are born in here, and grow up wild tike."

"And are you going to let the Park get swarming with wildcats?" queried the reporter, shiveringly.

"They don't do any harm. They eat a sparrow, now and then, but people come in here with picnic victuals and the cats gets the leavings. They don't bother anybody."

And the intrepid protector of the citizen at large in the Park squirted a philosophio stream of the juice of Virginia weed onto the asphalt.

Is a feeling peculiar to persons of dyspeptic tendence, or it may be caused by change of climate, season or life. The stomach is out of order, the head aches or does not worked, the mind is contrased and irritable. This condition finds an excellent corrective in Hood's Sarsage rills, which, by its regulating and toning powers, soo restores harmony to the system, and gives that strengt of mind, nerves, and body which makes one feel per of Health ample power to suppress it.

THE WORLD

Mr. Gannery grew violent and almost un-attained enormous proportions. It was organized in July with twenty-five members and now has over three hundred and fifty. Ex-Coroner John feature of this campaign.

There will be an odd fight for the Assemblyman's seat from the First District. President O'Neill will get the Democratic nomination, but both ex-Assemblyman E. McLaughlin and Saloon-Keeper James Roche declare intentions of running inde-pendently. The split may result in the election of the Republican nominee, who will be either James Gallaguer, the present Assemblyman, or ex-Judge Charles Burger will probably be the Prohibit ominee for Congress.

The Fifth District Democrats are preparing to

It seems natural for Letts and Covie to be pitted against each other in Hoboken. Their fight this year is as warm as ever.

Memphis that a barrel of Michigan celery packed in toe, was refused admissance to the city a few days ago, through fear that it might contain fever

Making a Diagnosia.

Patti's Notes. [From the Philadelphia Ledger.]

Important Matters Disposed of by the Cen-

trai Labor Union.

demonstration made denouncing the murders, but the Union declared that the matter was out of its jurisdiction.

Section 10 wanted James P. Archibald's seat declared vacant because he presided at a Cleveland meeting, but the point was raised that no delegate's seat could be declared vacant until he is tried and found guilty, and the chair ruled accordingly.

The Law Committee will look after the complaint of the Carl Sahm Club that boys are employed in fife and drum corps to the detriment of men.

detriment of men.

The Arbitration Committee was directed to

The Arbitration Committee was directed to inquire into the cause for the discharge of union men from Stevenson's brewery, at Tenth avenue and Thirty ninth street.

United States District Attorney Galvin, of Boston, wrote that he had begun suits against Bowker & Torrey, of that city, for importing twelve Italian marole-cutters in violation of the Foreign Contract Labor law.

The Ale and Porter Brewers' Protective Association, having adjusted its difficulties with Ale and Porter Brewers' Union No. 1, was admitted to the Central body.

A long discussion as to the advisability of asking the Socialistic Labor Party to aid the Central Union in securing the amendment of the conspiracy laws was held, but no action was taken. It was said that the prevailing sentiment is that no party be recognized by the Central Union.

Thomas B. Barry, of the General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor. addessed the anti-Quinn faction of District Assembly 49 yesterday and advised it to make an unblased statement of to the General Assembly which meets at Indianapolis Nov. 12.

The Quinn party has elected delegates to the General Assembly, at which 100 representatives of the various District Assemblies will be present. Several Districts have sent two sets of delegates, and much trouble is anticipated in the endeavor of settle the claims of the coutestants.

retail dry-goods stores in this city for one hour for hinch, the present balf hour being entirely inade-quate. A committee was appointed to wait on all those firms now giving only half an hour.

There are three priests in the Order of the Knights of Labor in Dakota. The Baltimore Critic says the workingman is the set citizen and the hope of the country's future.

Seventy-five union printers have been put at work

Natural gas-fitters at Indianapolis are on a strike for $3.50 a day. They were getting $2.50, and their services are in great demand.

flect a Rich Field Within. The long windows of Simpson, Crawford & Simp-

High Schools Open To-Night. night and the indications are that the attendance man.

The Democratic Club of Cranford, N. J., will have a grand ratification meeting and raily at Cranford Hall, Cranford, at 8 o'clock this evening. Allan L. McDermott, Wm. M. Dougherty and Edward Jordan will address the meeting. Edward language of the control Beadle will preside.

[from the Folland Francerint.]
The brightest, sharpest and pithiest things mid during this campaign are the legends blazoned daily on the screen of THE EVEN-ING WORLD stereopticon man. They are the essence of political wisdom and the extract of political wit. THE EVENING WORLD'S stereopticon is by far the most original feature introduced in journalism for years. It enables that sparking newspaper to indelibly impress its readers with its epigramatic sayings. They are not all confined to polities, but touch on all sorts of passing events, varying the legends by striking little cartoons from time to time. That our readers may appreciate the quality of this work, we reproduce here in type some of the sayings that have flashed for a day on the screen in THE EVENING WORLD'S columns: One Monopoly the G. O. P. Does Not Posses, viz.: A Monopoly of Votes. Gov. Hill Saved t. e Haif Holiday for the People. Perhaps the People Will Save Another Term for

Quay is a Great Prohibitionist—of Political Gab. Whoever Heard of a Miller on Top of a Hill 7 Now let's have that Joint Debaic on Trusts be-tween Brer Blaine and Brer Harrison. Ten Mills Make One Cent, but the Mills Bill Saves you Dollars.

There's No Scramble after Yellow Jack's Vote.

Trusts are "Private Affairs" for Public Rob-THE EVENING WORLD'S Stereopticon will Never sereen Frand.

Protection is a Noble Word
Ween for a Wife and Children Heard,
But when the Trust must be Protected,
The Wife and Children are Neglected !
Keep an eye on Connecticut. We'll take a little (wooden) nutmeg in ours on election night.
The Democrats are charged with "Cassing Rainbows." But it's the Republicans who after the Pot of Gold. oows. But it's the Republicans who alter the Poto Gold.

When Blaine speaks in the Poto Grounds, of course he'll have a Scorer to Note the Errors.

Many Hats are Wagered on this Election, but Grandpa's Chapeau still Looms Above them All. Warner Miller "Stands by Cold Water." He may open an Ice-House in November.

A Hard Part to Act Well—monopolists in the rôle of Workingmen's Friends.

Harrison thinks he has the Quay to Success. Hot Hot Hal Ha! Ha!

Of course, a Miller always believes in Water Power.

As true as freedom hates a trust,

As true as freedom hates a trust,
I'me as the world turns on its axis,
Is that strong battle cry: Unjust
Are all unnecessary taxes!
Warner Miller will go to Albany via Mr. Keeley's door.

"To use that surplus up, buy bonds!"
Quotn Ben, "and the Tariff save!"
But the workingman's bonds were long since bought; ne's the tariff baron's slave. MONOPOLY'S MAXIMA.

For Trusts—Hands Off!

For Labor Unions—Handcuffs On!

The Mayor takes a rap at everybody. On mature reflection he may not vote for himself.

Private Affairs—Larceuy, Highway Robbery and Prosts.

Trusts.

Everyone but the Mayor Enthuses over the Pennant Prospects. But, then, he Does not like Fings:
Sir Plus is a Knight of Republican Extraction.
An Allowable Handkerchiet Flirtation—Waving he Bandanca.
The Political Wires are all Underground and yet they are dangerous.
One Popular Trust with Workingmen—Trust in

David B.

An Export Duty on American Beauty is what the Country Really Needs.

A typo's view—Before election? 7 After election! !!

One Croker but no Croakers in Tammany Hall, With Defections Past and Prospective the County Democracy does look a little C. D. (seedy).

Politicians are like the new electric cars. They are easily shocked!

City Politics is not so much a question of Halls as of Haus. Is Marriage a Failure? Well, it depends on Is Marriage a Failure? Well, it depends on whether you are a Failure Yourself.

The Ambitious Statesman's prayer: "Save me from the Mayor's Endorsement."

Lost—A Political Keynote labelled J. G. B. No reward for finder. Address G. O. P. Sir Plus, Tariff Baron, Cosi King, &c., are all related to Mr. Highway Robbery.

The Victorious Giants are the real G. Ö. P. of the Polo Grounds.

FUN FOR AFTER DINNER

Stroke Oar (describing a recent college box race)-We felt confident all the time that if only

[From the Boston Courier.]
Noodletop—I haven't seen Puffy in your com pany lately, Kanob; what's become of him? Kanob-Ah, we-aw-don't twain together now N. - What is the matter? Have you quarrelled: K. -No. I-aw-was obliged to cut the fellah, ou know; he was too dooms volgah. N.—Indeed?

K.—Yass. I accompanied him to his tailor's, where he was to be measured for a pain of twousers, and he asked to be measured for pawnts yass, actually asked to be measured for pawnts.

Too Vulgar Entirely.

[From the Cartoon.]
Clerk—Perambulators ? Yes, sir, We have just got in a new stock, satin-lined, silk-trimmed, silver-plated iron-work, full-jewelled handle, &c., only $50. Step this way, please. First child, I only so. Suppose? —No; seventh, suppose? —No; seventh, Clerk—Oh! Jonn, show the gentleman those latest improved $10 baoy "coaches."

The Druggist's Plight.

The fancets cease to nzs.
And sad the druggist is,
The falling off of trade his spirits damps, damps,

The trade is over-well,

All Tustes Suited.

He must go in and sell

An extra quantity of postage stamps, stamps, Rossi's Mistake [From the Curtoon.]
Philadelphian—I see it announced in Italy that the tragedian Rossi has retired from the stage. Mme. Patti-The poor dear old man! He should have retired earlier. It would be an awful thing for him to die of old age before getting half through his farewells.

money Spolek Society of this city. Some member has probably run against the name in the dark and cut himself. Young Charlie and to sweat M-lies
When he has declaration ended:
"I now must try to steal a kies,
And hope you will not be offended."
" what! steal a kies | just try it, del's
Be answered with enimation,
" And if you get it, I'll pursue
A policy of retaliation!"

A Dangerous Name. [From the Chicago Mast.]
There is trouble in the Cesky Blavonski Vypo-

FROM THE CITY'S WHIRL

DRIFT CAUGHT HERE AND THERE BY "EVENING WORLD" REPORTERS.

The wooden Indian is one of the most frequent sights to be seen in the city, He can be seen in all quarters—on the river front or in the swell neighborhood of Madison and average being as to how these Indians are manufactured. Some people think that they are made by Italians, while others imagine that they are turned out of any ordinary saw-

The manufacture of these figures in New York is confined to three establishments, one of which is located on Canal street, just off the Bowery, and when an Evenine World young man called at that shop he found the proprietor busily engaged in putting the finishing touches to an "Injun."

"Business is just as brisk as ever," said he. "In fact, we never have a dull season. There is always a steady demand for our goods. If anything, trade is on the increase on account of the increase in the number of cigar stores. The decline of wages forces a good many cigar-makers to leave their trade and go into business for themselves. That, you see.

rine decline of wages forces a good many cigar-makers to leave their trade and go into business for themselves. That, you see, makes it better for us.

"Yes, there are new figures all the time, but the Indian was the first settler and he is likely to stay. The latest thing out is a baseball player. He is in reat demand just now, but will not last very long, for there is something new coming up all the time. The figures bring from $25 to $60 each, according to size. The 'dude' that used to be such a familiar sight is now passe.

"In making a figure, we first take the log of wood—which is of a soft variety, and is usually worth about twenty-five or thirty cents a foot—and cut it into shape with a broad-axe. This is called 'roughing.' Then the face is carved out with delicate instruments, then the body work is finished with a chisel. After that the figure is mounted on its pedestal, and is ready for painting, which, however, is never done until after the figure has been sold.

"The figures are not sold according to their size, but the right is good according to their size, but the right is good according to their size, but the right is now and according to their size, but the right is now and according to their size, but the right is now and according to their size, but the right is now and according to their size, but the right is now and according to their size, but the right is now and according to their size, but the right is now and according to their size, but the right is now as good according to their size, but the right is now according to the right is now according to the right is now according to their size, but the right is now according to the righ

There are only five journeymen engaged in this work in New York City. They work eight and nine hours a day and receive $3.50 and %4 for it.

The best workman gets the highest pay and works the shortest hours. The three New York firms control the business in this city. Brooklyn and the New Jersey suburbs. They also send a large number of figures West.

ctive interest in the campaign is the Dry-Goods Brotherhood, and one of the largest electioneering banners in the city is that of how things were booming. It was well filled, and names were being constantly written in the register for subscriptions. Large sheets of printed matter on the vital points of the tariff stood on the table for free distribution. "How are things going on?" asked the reporter of a stout man with a mustache who was hustling about.

"Pretty well. We've got 4.144 names on the book. Every Tuesday and Friday we have stump speeches here and the boys come in pretty thick. If we paid agents $20 a week to go around the different wards canvassing, we might get more, but we'll even which suits the retiring nature of the cat, it is a matter of surprise to see so many felines prowling about the roads and walks. off tail, stalk calmiy along, rub their hides houses round the Park," answered the copper. "Some of 'em stay, some of 'em go. Some of 'em," he added, with the warming interest of a Buffon delivering an educational essay on the felis domestica, "some of em are born in here, and grow up wild ike."

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla in my fam

Hood's Sarsaparilla

there is on it."

Metal figures cost about five times as much as those that are made of wood, but are not any more durable. If one of them tumbles over it breaks and the repairs cost almost as much as the whole thing originally cost.

Something About the Dry-Goods Men Who One of the lively guilds in town taking an

An Evening World reporter strolled into the latter's long, unfurnished room to sec how things were booming. It was well filled, week to go around the different wards canvassing, we might get more, but we'll even up pretty well as it is. We expect to get eight or ten thousand names."

"Are there many money contributions?"

"Well, not so very many. Some men give a dollar or a dollar and a halt; that's the common figure. Then there are others that subscribe a five, and some a ten, which is about the top notch. It will all be used for campaign expenses. Oh, we'll make a show, and do some good for Grover and the old Roman.

for the downtown business men to get to them then than it is at night. What's that, Mr. O'Brien?"

And the speaker moved off in secret con-

Will Central Park Become the Domain of asked an Evening World wanderer of a

Out of Sorts

"I have used Hood's Sarasparilla in my family set three years, and have taken it personally with green mucoss. It has always built up my system, by giving me a good appetite, has cleared my sitts, and has made no sleep. I have suffered from nervous prestretion, as have been cured by nothing but Hood's Saraspassilla and occasionally a few of Hood's Pills." G. F. JURICH-MARN, Supt. of Music of Public Schools, Cincinnati, O.

Sold by all drugglets. $1: six for $5. Prepare by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Loyell, Ma 100 DOMES ONE DOLLAR